

✕ Lessons

For this course, you need to install the Oracle database server. You should also install the SQL developer client to create and populate the tables used in this course.

For detailed instructions about installing each software, you should read other items in this lesson. I suggest that you install all software in the first week of the course before detailed assignments begin in week 2.

✓ Complete

